Directory of Parliamentary Committees and Relevant Civil Society/Research Organisations of Pakistan

Bridging the Gap between the Parliament and the Civil Society

PREFACE

Parliamentary Committees are seen as vital to the work of Parliaments. They serve as powerful channels to promote transparency and accountability in a Parliamentary system of government. Committees are one of the most important mechanisms by which legislatures hold state institutions accountable, question executive policies and investigate issues of public concern. Parliamentary committees provide the opportunity to a group of MPs for more detailed investigation and discussions on an issue, review policy matters or review bills more closely than would be possible by the entire chamber.

Parliamentary Committees are referred to as “Parliament at work” while the plenary is called “Parliament at exhibition.” Due to a variety of reasons, chief among which is lack of institutional stability and growth due to derailing of democracy, Parliamentary Committees in Pakistan have not been able to maximise their potential and performance. Within the structure of Parliament, non-availability of research resources and weak linkages with Civil Society expertise are the other major cause for lack of optimum performance. Parliamentary Committees in Pakistan need to develop strong linkages with the Civil Society and Research institutions in order to improve their efficiency and performance. Furthermore, mechanisms and strategies need to be developed for access to research information for these Committees in order to assist them in improving their performance.

This PILDAT Directory of Parliamentary Committees, Civil Society and Research Organisations has been prepared to fill this gap and serve as a resource tool for the Parliament to facilitate the use of professional research sources in addressing issues relevant to the Committees. It is an attempt to promote the formation of more purposeful linkages between Parliamentary Committees and the Civil Society. This directory attempts to give information of all standing committees of the Parliament as well as of the Provincial Assemblies of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa, Punjab and Sindh. No standing committee has been elected in Balochistan Assembly after the General Election 2008, therefore it is the only legislature whose committee information does not appear in the Directory.

PILDAT has attempted to ensure that this directory is as complete as a dynamic document like this can be. The organisations focussing on at least any one of the following categories have been included in the directory:

1. Produce credible research work that can help the Parliamentary Committees
2. Research centres associated with universities in Pakistan which produce credible research that can be used by the Parliamentary Committees
3. Civil Society Organisations (CSOs) that are associated with research or study in policy-related issues/matters that are relevant for use by the Parliamentary Committees

The list of the CSOs in the directory is not exhaustive though effort has been made to include as many organisations as possible.

We look forward to benefitting from the feedback from Parliament and Parliamentary Committees as well as institutions and organisations working in relevant fields to enrich this directory further and we hope that the future edition of the directory will be more comprehensive.

An online and dynamic version of this directory can be accessed at <http://www.pildat.org/csodirectory>

Due to devolution process after the 18th Constitutional Amendment, various Ministries, Provincial Departments and their associated Parliamentary Committees are undergoing a number of changes. Therefore the information presented in the Directory may change in the short term. Users of this Directory may access the Legislatures' websites for latest information. The website addresses of the Legislatures are given below:

Brief Profile of the Organisation:

Balochistan Rural Support Programme (BRSP) is an autonomous not for-profit-organisation working in the rural areas of Balochistan. BRSP's history goes back to the project "Pak- German self help initiative" that was initiated in 1983 in collaboration with the Governments of Germany and Pakistan. The project was implemented by the Local Government Department of Balochistan with the collaboration of GTZ ( German Agency for Technical Cooperation) advisory group. In the mid 1990s BRSP existed in 13 districts of Balochistan, with 250 staff members. The programme, however, had to be scaled down substantially in the subsequent years as GTZ withdrew its support. After a long interval of inactivity, BRSP restarted its operation in 2001 with financial support from PPAF. In 1991, BRSP was registered under the companies Ordinance as a non-profit organisation dedicated to rural development in the province.

Mission Statement:

“Provision of quality care to children suffering from cancer irrespective of their paying ability has matured to building the New Children Cancer Hospital where treatment will be provided regardless of paying ability and which will serve as a center for human resource development, clinical trials and research to bring about a real change in pediatric oncology in Pakistan”

Head of Organisation:

Name: Mr. Faiyaz Ahmed

Designation: President

Brief Profile of the Organisation:

Cancer is perhaps the most dreaded word in the medical world, especially so in children. When a child is diagnosed with cancer in our society, he is either taken abroad for treatment if affording or is rather left in a state of bewildered anxiety. Lack of a specialized unit where complete and quality treatment could be provided leaves a vast majority of children facing certain death. The Children Cancer Foundation was registered in December 1999 by a group of doctors, philanthropists, social workers and parents of children suffering from cancer with a mission to provide quality cancer care to every child irrespective of paying ability. The journey that began in a single room has now blossomed into a well established children cancer unit. This could not have been possible without the unrelenting support from all walks of the society.

Brief Profile of the Organisation:

Community Uplift Program (CUP) Pakistan is a national level non-profit development organisation registered under Section 42 of the Pakistan Companies Ordinance on 29 Jan 2001. CUP has developed over the past more than nine (09) years as a national indigenous solution for implementing poverty reduction projects; an innovation that can be replicated by the government and development agencies with unprecedented accruals to the poorest of the poor at an amazingly low per capita cost. It is a paradigm shift from run of the mill high-cost development projects having minimal impact to a result-oriented and synergic participatory development, which we call the four dimensional development approach; “integration, participation, impact and transparency”. Thus, we are positioned as a community development resource centre with both upstream policy level formulation and downstream grassroots level integrated participatory action planning and implementation systems for development interventions.

Brief Profile of the Organisation:

Under the umbrella of the Foundation for Human Development in Pakistan, Mahboob-ul-Haq Human Development Centre was set up in November, 1995 in Islamabad, Pakistan by the late Dr. Mahboob-ul-Haq, founder and chief architect of UNDP Human Development Reports. Dr. Haq revolutionised the entire development thinking by introducing and promoting people-centered development paradigm and advanced this paradigm in all capacities in which he worked - in the World Bank (1970-82) as a close adviser to its President, Robert S. McNamara, as Finance and Planning Minister in Pakistan (1982-88), and as Special Adviser to the UNDP Administrator (1989-95). The economic growth experience of a number of countries, in particular that of Pakistan in the 1960s, convinced him that GNP growth was not the end, but merely a means, to development. He argued that the purpose of development is not just to enlarge incomes but to enlarge people's choices, and that these choices extend to a decent education, good health, political freedom, cultural identity, personal security, community participation, environmental security, and many other areas of human well-being.

Brief Profile of the Organisation:

The Pakistan Institute of Development Economics was established at Karachi in 1957 and in 1964 accorded the status of an autonomous research organisation by the Government of Pakistan. It is devoted to theoretical and empirical research in Development Economics in general and on Pakistan-related economic issues in particular. In addition to providing a firm academic basis to economic policy-making, its research also provides a window through which the outside world can view the nature and direction of economic research in Pakistan. Other social sciences, such as demography and anthropology and interdisciplinary studies increasingly define the widening scope of research that must be undertaken for proper economic policy and development to have sound underpinnings. Over the past 50 years PIDE has earned an international reputation and recognition for its research. Our faculty is rich and our advisory committee consists of world renowned economists such as Nobel Laureate Robert A. Mundell. PIDE is located at the Quaid-i-Azam University Campus in Islamabad, the capital of Pakistan. The campus rests against the backdrop of the Margalla hills on the Potohar Plateau, within a short distance of the remains of Taxila, which once housed the world's oldest university. Archaeological remains discovered in this area show that it has been a centre of civilisation for some 5,000 years. The Institute, neighbour to several other academic outfits situated in this historic and scenic part of the green foothills of the great South Asian mountain ranges, is the hub of economic and social science research in this part of the world.

Brief Profile of the Organisation:

PILDAT is an independent and non-partisan Pakistani research and training institution, a political think tank, committed to strengthening democracy and democratic institutions in Pakistan. PILDAT is a premier research organization of Pakistan focusing on democracy, governance and public policy analysis. Founded in 2001, the organisation focuses on producing objective, research-based analyses on policies especially under review by the Parliament and the Executive. PILDAT analysis and research is aimed at providing innovative, practical recommendations and options to policy makers and to inform the public debate through media. PILDAT conducts independent research on a variety of issues under the broad framework of democratic strengthening, political and institutional reform, legislative strengthening, political-economy, civil-military relations, federation-provinces relations, women and youth in politics, etc. PILDAT has been focussing on promoting a fact-based discourse, as opposed to prevalent emotive discourse, on national issues through working alongside media to inform and broaden public debate on national issues. PILDAT especially focuses on Parliament and plays an important role in bringing expertise, balance and informed debate on legislative and policy choices. Since the institute guards its independence and non-partisan approach very carefully, and its research agenda and analyses are rooted in open-minded inquiry reflecting diverse points of view, it has developed a unique convening power that brings together diverse political spheres and voices from across the country on important national and global issues affecting Pakistan. Completing the first decade of its contributions in Pakistan, PILDAT has held over 300 capacity-building and issue-based briefings for Parliament and Provincial Assemblies. It has also prepared over 350 research analyses in the shape of briefing/background papers, case studies and legislative and policy briefs on public policy and legislative issues. PILDAT assists key Parliamentary Committees in the discharge of their responsibilities of oversight and scrutiny of the Executive through capacity building and background research. PILDAT also provides forums for comparative political and parliamentary learning through regional/international conferences and organizing study visits to other Parliaments and global institutions. On the transparency and accountability front, PILDAT carries out annual performance review of Parliament and Provincial Assemblies. Annual State of Democracy reports of PILDAT are widely quoted by national and international media, global think tanks and institutes looking at Pakistan. PILDAT report on Quality of Democracy in Pakistan presents a periodic assessment of state and society using global indicators and framework for international comparison. Devoting to providing well-considered policy options, PILDAT facilitates formation of policy groups for research and dialogue on issues including Civil-Military Relations, Electoral Reforms, Relations between Muslims and Western World, Centre-Province Relations, etc. Recognising the value and challenge of youthful demographics of Pakistan, PILDAT launched the project of Youth Parliament Pakistan in 2007 to train a representative cross-section of young Pakistanis in values of engagement through reasoned dialogue, the use of researched facts beyond simple perceptions, the ability of tolerance of others views, a deeper understanding of Pakistan itself, its various regional issues and perceptions and to inculcate culture and values of democracy in youth to prepare them for future leadership roles. Developing an increasingly global audience, PILDAT has hosted many national and international conferences, workshops and forums involving national, regional and international leaders, Parliamentarians, subject specialists and policy experts. PILDAT's focus on improving Pakistan's regional relations and regional security in South Asia have led us to institute Parliamentarians Dialogues between Afghanistan and Pakistan since 2008 and dialogues between Indian and Pakistani Parliamentarians focussed on resolving issues that impact the relationship between the neighbouring countries.

Head of Organisation:

Name: Ms. Afsheen Ahmed

Brief Profile of the Organisation:

PAVHNA is an umbrella body with over 40 NGOs and CBOs (small community based organisations) as its members, working in the development field in Pakistan. Established in 1979, and registered at federal and provincial levels, PAVHNA was originally set up with the objective of improving the nutritional and related health and socio-economic status of the most disadvantaged sector of society - women and children. The idea was to pool the resources of like-minded agencies to make a concerted effort to achieve these objectives. Its activities were started off by an UNICEF project on providing better nutrition for severely malnourished children and a programme of vaccination. It was soon realized that nutrition was too narrow a focus and to achieve objectives of better health for women and children the projects needed to be far more integrated and with a broader vision.

Registered under the Societies Registration Act XXI of 1860 as a non-political organisation, SHEHRI is based in the city of Karachi and operates as a pressure group and a conscious raising organisation interfacing with citizens, civic and metropolitan bodies and higher tiers of government. It acts as a catalyst for generating debates and searching for solutions to the urban problems. Donations to SHEHRI are approved under section 47 (1) (d) of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979. SHEHRI is supervised by a Management Committee duly elected by SHEHRI members for a term of two years. The membership is open to all who subscribe to its memorandum. It functions in an open, transparent and democratic manner. The organisation is funded by both foreign and local donors. The financial records are audited every year by chartered accountants and are presented to SHEHRI members. We are aware of the steadily worsening environmental conditions in our cities, towns and villages and degradation of our living spaces. ## Appendices

Constitution of Pakistan

Article 50 of the Constitution of Pakistan provides that the Parliament of Pakistan shall consist of President and the two Houses known as the National Assembly and the Senate. Both the Houses work together to carry out the basic responsibilities of the Parliament, i.e., law making; however, the National Assembly has an edge over the Senate by legislating exclusively on money matters.

The Islamic Republic of Pakistan is a Federal State comprising four (4) provinces of Balochistan, the Khyber Pakhtunkhwa, the Punjab and the Sindh. Islamabad is the Federal Capital and thus a federal territory. Executive authority of the federation extends to the Federally Administered Tribal Areas (FATA).

The Senate of Pakistan

The main purpose for the creation of the Senate of Pakistan is to give equal representation to all the federating units since the membership of the National Assembly is based on the population of each province. Equal provincial membership in the Senate, thus, balances the provincial inequality in the National Assembly and dispels doubts and apprehensions, if any, regarding deprivation and exploitation.<sup>1</sup>

The role of the Senate is to promote national cohesion and harmony and to alleviate fears of the smaller provinces regarding domination by any one province because of its majority in the National Assembly.<sup>2</sup>

Composition of the Senate

After the 18th Constitutional Amendment, the number of Senate Members has been increased from 100 to 104 adding 4 seats for non-Muslims, one from each Province, a provision that will become operational for the next Senate Election. The composition of the Senate, according to Article 59 of the Constitution, is as follows:

(1) The Senate shall consist of one-hundred and four members, of whom,-

- (a) Fourteen (14) shall be elected by the members of each Provincial Assembly;
- (b) Eight (8) shall be elected from the Federally, Administered Tribal Areas, in such manner as the President may, by Order, prescribe;
- (c) Two (2) on general seats, and one woman and one technocrat including aalim shall be elected from the Federal Capital in such manner as the President may, by Order, prescribe;
- (d) Four (4) women shall be elected by the members of each Provincial Assembly;
- (e) Four (4) technocrats including ulema shall be elected by the members of each Provincial Assembly; and
- (f) Four (4) non-Muslims, one from each Province, shall be elected by the members of each Provincial Assembly;

The National Assembly of Pakistan

The National Assembly of Pakistan is the country's sovereign legislative body. It embodies the will of the people to let them be governed under the democratic, multi-party Federal Parliamentary System. The National Assembly makes laws for the Federation in respect of the powers enumerated in the Constitution of Pakistan. Through its debates, adjournment motion, question hour and Standing Committees, the National Assembly keeps a check over the Executive and ensures that the government functions within the parameters set out in the Constitution and does not violate the fundamental rights of citizens. Only the National Assembly, through its Public Accounts Committee, scrutinizes public spending and exercises control of expenditure incurred by the government.<sup>3</sup>

Relationship between Constituents of the Parliament

- a) President and Parliament: Under Article 50 of the Constitution, the Majlis-i-Shoora (Parliament) of Pakistan consists of the President and two Houses to be known respectively as the National Assembly and the Senate.
- b) The President is elected by members of both Houses of the Parliament and the Provincial Assemblies. The President may be removed from office or impeached through a resolution, passed by not less than two-thirds of the total membership of the Parliament in a joint sitting of the two Houses, convened for the purpose.

Under the 18th Constitutional Amendment, the President's discretionary powers to dissolve the National Assembly or to refer a question to a Referendum have been removed. The President retains the right to be informed on all matters of internal and foreign policy and in regard to all legislative proposals, but cannot now require a report on any administrative or other matter. Time limits have been fixed for the President to act on the advice given to him by the Prime Minister and his Cabinet. The President is now to appoint the Governors, the Service Chiefs and the Chairman Federal Public Service Commission on the binding advice of the Prime Minister.<sup>4</sup>

In case the office of the President becomes vacant for any reason, the Chairman Senate, or if he is unable to perform the functions of the office of the President, the Speaker National Assembly, acts as President till such time that a President is elected. Same is the case when the President by reason of absence from Pakistan or any other cause is unable to perform his functions.

- c) Relations between the Houses: Unless both the Houses pass a Bill and it receives President's assent it cannot become a law except in the case of a money bill which is the sole prerogative of the National Assembly.

A Bill with respect to any matter in the Federal Legislative List may originate in either House and shall, if it is passed by the House in which it originated, be transmitted to the other House; and, if the Bill is passed without amendment by the other House also, it shall be presented to the President for assent.

If a Bill transmitted to a House under clause (1) of Article 70 of the Constitution of Pakistan is passed with amendments it shall be sent back to the House in which it originated and if that House passes the Bill with those amendments it shall be presented to the President for assent.

(3) If a Bill transmitted to a House under clause (1) of Article 70 of the Constitution of Pakistan is rejected or is not passed within ninety days of its laying in the House or a Bill sent to a House under clause (2) of Article 70 of the Constitution of Pakistan with amendments is not passed by that House with such amendments, the Bill, at the request of the House in which it originated, shall be considered in a joint sitting and if passed by the votes of the majority of the members present and voting in the joint sitting it shall be presented to the President for assent.<sup>5</sup>

- d) Cabinet: The Constitution provides that there shall be a Cabinet headed by the Prime Minister. After the 18th Constitutional Amendment, the Cabinet is collectively responsible both to the Senate and the National Assembly. The Prime Minister is chosen from the National Assembly.

Parliamentary Committees System

Parliamentary committees have, over the years, become an integral and indispensable part of legislative systems the world over. The ever-increasing complexity of a legislature's role has resulted in a corresponding increase in reliance on committees. The committees are now recognised to be the "political nerve ends, the gatherers of information, the sifters of alternatives, and the refiners of legislative detail."<sup>8</sup>

Reliance on the committees is primarily due to the increase in demand on the time of elected representatives, which limits the amount of time left for legislative work and due to practical complications of in-depth discussion in a large House comprising hundreds of members. Legislative Bills and other important issues which warrant in depth discussion are, therefore, referred to the Committees. If it was not for the Committees of the Parliament, the legislative business transacted by Parliaments would be enacted in summary proceedings thereby defeating the objectives of thorough scrutiny.<sup>9</sup>

Committees are conceived as eyes and ears of a Legislature, and its essential weapon and armory. A dynamic committee system alone can achieve tangible accountability of the Executive to the Legislature and of the Legislature to the people. In a Parliamentary democracy, based on Executive accountability, the Legislature is the principal representative institution of the people, their spokesman, and a link between the people and the Government. It exists "not only to mirror and articulate the opinions, the aspirations and the grievances of the people, it has also to help secure the fulfillments of their wants and expectations, the redressal of their grievances and the solution of the difficulties they face".<sup>10</sup> The committee system has certain advantages over the Legislature:

1. Committees facilitate a dispassionate and objective analysis of the issues as they can meet more frequently and for longer periods; the working environment is rather quiet and congenial, they may have on-the-spot inquiry or examination for pertinent evaluation and review, and have the opportunity to benefit from expert advice/opinion.
2. Parliamentary committees form a loop amongst the Legislature, the Executive and the people. Through public participation at various levels, and a meaningful dialogue between the government and the members, the committees stand a chance to have a more clearheaded and rational conclusion/decision. That also saves a lot of precious time of the Legislature and substantially improves and reinforces its performance.
3. Committees can be instrumental to strengthening meaningful control of the Legislature over the finances by an in-depth review of the budgetary proposals/demands, and the scrutiny of the utilization of the budget and financial management vis-a-vis the objectives achieved.
4. Committees render invaluable help to the Legislature as well as the Executive towards accomplishing good governance: by constant evaluation of the policies, programmes and working of departments; by exposing inefficiency, irregularities, extravagance and excesses committed by the administration; and by attending to the grievances of the public, advising and guiding the Executive and suggesting remedial steps.
5. Committees, by periodic analysis of the implementation of their own decisions and the decisions of the Legislature, can secure timely implementation of the same.
6. The deliberations and reflections of the Committees: may impart a certain degree of knowledge, insight and expertise to the members, government officials and general public; and may facilitate and guide the Executive in having a better Organisation and planning.
7. A strong committee system propels the government of the day not to take the Legislature for granted.<sup>11</sup>

Standing Committees in the Senate of Pakistan

Under Rule 140 of the rules of Procedures and Conduct of Business in the Senate of Pakistan 1988 “there shall be a Standing Committee for each ministry of the Government.”

A Committee is also authorized to examine suo moto the expenditures, administration, subordinate legislation, the public petitions and policies of the Ministry concerned and its attached public bodies.

Each committee consists of not less than six members and not more than twelve members to be elected by the Senate with Minister concerned as Ex-officio member. A member cannot be a member of more than five standing committees at the same time. Each committee may appoint sub committees which exercise the powers of the whole committee to examine any subject or matter which may be referred to them.

Senate Committees play an important role in giving in-depth consideration to the legislative bills presented in the Senate. The members of these Committees not only scrutinize the Bills but can also advise the Ministries/Divisions concerned on various issues and also serve as an effective vehicle to evaluate their performance.<sup>12</sup>

Standing Committees in the National Assembly of Pakistan

Defining specific roles and powers of the Standing Committees in the National Assembly of Pakistan, rule 198 of the Rules and Procedure and Conduct of Business in the National Assembly 2007 states that:

- “(1) there shall be a Standing Committee for each of the Ministry of the Government
- (2) Each Committee shall deal with the subjects assigned, under the rules for the allocation and transaction of business of the Government to the Division or the Ministry with which it is concerned or any other matter referred to it by the Assembly.”

Rule 201 (1) further defines the role of the Committees as:

“A Committee shall examine a Bill, subject or matter referred to it by the Assembly or the Speaker and shall submit its report to the Assembly or to the Speaker, as the case may be, with such recommendations including suggestions for legislation, if any, as it may deem necessary. In the case of a Bill, the Committee shall also examine whether the Bill violates, disregards or is otherwise not in accordance with the Constitution.”

Rule 201 (4) further states that

“A Committee may examine the expenditures, administration, delegated legislation, public petitions and policies of the Ministry concerned and its associated public bodies and may forward its report of findings and recommendations to the Ministry and the Ministry shall submit its reply to the Committee.”

The Standing Committees in the National Assembly have been empowered to go into all matters of the ministry. A matter can be remitted to a standing committee by the Speaker or the Assembly suo moto and without moving any motion.

The committees have also been empowered to invite or summon before it any member or any other person having a special interest in relation to any matter under its consideration and may hear expert evidence and hold public hearing.<sup>13</sup>

Standing Committees in the Provincial Assemblies

With a few exceptions, the committee system in the two Houses of the Parliament of Pakistan and in each Provincial Assembly is almost identical. One important difference is that whereas the standing committees of the National Assembly have the suo motto power to examine "the expenditure, administration, delegated legislation, public petitions and policies of the Ministry concerned and its associated public bodies," the committees of the Provincial Assemblies have no such power; they examine only such Bills and other documents or matters as the respective Legislature may refer to them.<sup>14</sup>
